Turkey has significant renewable energy (RE) potential, including solar, mainly as a result of its geographic location. Taking advantage of this potential will decrease .

On average, it can produce 120–150 kWh per day (or 43,800–54,750 kWh annually), depending on your location, sunlight hours, and panel efficiency. Example: In a sunny region like California, a 30kW system may generate up to 150 kWh daily—enough to power a large home or small commercial facility.

Let's cut to the chase: Ankara energy storage prices currently range from $280 to $350 per kWh for commercial systems [1]. But here's the kicker – that's 18% cheaper than Istanbul's rates. Why?

Three factors are flipping the script: Government Juice: Turkey's 2023 Renewable Energy Action Plan.

Although approximately 70% of the total potential capacity of rooftop PV systems is in residential buildings, the levelized cost of electricity (LCOE) of these systems for residential buildings is 30%–50% higher than the grid tariff. Only thirty percent of the total potential capacity of rooftop PV.
