Central American nation Panama has recently announced its first-ever renewable energy and energy storage bidding auctions to meet the growing demand for electricity and enhance grid reliability in the country. The country's National Secretary of Energy and the state-owned power transmission company.

While the U.S. was expected to have nearly 60 GWh of installed battery capacity by the end of 2023, AMI estimates that Latin America had less than 1 GWh of operational BESS projects—a 60x difference. This large gap will be bridged at different speeds based on each country's specific regulations. To.

By 2030, the global BESS market is expected to reach a value of approximately $12 billion, representing a fourfold increase from its value in 2022. This growth is expected to be driven by several factors, including the increasing adoption of renewable energy, advancements in battery technology, and. Does Mexico have a front-of-the-meter Bess market?

Mexico's front-of-the-meter BESS market is practically nonexistent. BESS is not defined by law but rather by the market. Storage projects are forced to register as an active power plant ("central electrica") and be represented by a market participant, in this case, a generator (e.g., IPP).

How will Bess be compensated in 2021?

Colombia's BESS tender in 2021, won by Canadian Solar, was a good step forward, but there is still no clear regulation on how stand-alone BESS will be compensated. Regulators are debating whether to handle storage as a transmission or generation asset, given its flexibility.

Does Colombia have a power purchase agreement for hybrid solar & Bess projects?

As of now, Colombia's reliability charge (Cargo por Confiabilidad) has encouraged hybrid solar + BESS projects to progress. Large energy companies have expressed that there are no Power Purchasing Agreements (PPAs) available specifically for stand-alone storage projects, making it harder to finance those projects.
