Policy changes in Italy are expected to have a significant impact on the European energy storage market, potentially leading to changes in local energy storage installations in 2024.

Germany, the U.K., and Italy emerged as the leading markets for battery storage installations in Europe during 2023. According to TrendForce statistics, Germany, the U.K., and Italy added capacities of 6.1GWh, 4.0GWh, and 3.9GWh, respectively, to their energy storage infrastructure. In the first.

To meet the European Union (EU)'s energy and climate greenhouse gas emissions targets by 2030, EU countries need to establish a 10-year integrated national energy and climate plan between 2021 and 2030. Italy has one in place called PNIEC. PNIEC aims for renewables to contribute to 40% of gross.

Italy has taken a major step forward in its energy transition efforts, giving the green light to 361 MW of new battery energy storage systems (BESS) spread across three regions—Lazio, Puglia, and Sardinia. This move underscores the country's growing commitment to grid resilience, energy.

in the next few years, having been close to non-existent until now. While the residential sector has boomed thanks to home storage's inclusion in the 'superbonus' energy-efficiency renovation tax thold in the market: Aquila Capital, Field Energy and Innovo Group. Research firm LCP Delta recently.
