Is energy storage a good investment in Poland?

In Poland, interest in energy storage investment has been evident for some time. Last year's main auction of the power market, with capacity delivery for 2029, further bumped up the capacity of storage projects.

What does ENEX 2025 tell us about energy storage in Poland?

The insights from Enex 2025 reinforce that BESS is no longer an emerging trend—it's a critical part of Poland's energy transition. With favorable market reforms and growing investment interest, the country is well-positioned to capitalize on energy storage innovations.

Is Poland a key player in Europe's energy storage sector?

Poland is emerging as a significant player in Europe's energy storage sector. The recent capacity market auctions in December 2024 highlighted a substantial shift towards BESS, with approximately 2.5 GW secured by new generation capacity market units, predominantly Li-ion energy storage projects.

How much will Poland invest in energy by 2040?

Total required investments in Poland's energy sector could reach USD 420 billion (PLN 1.6 trillion) by 2040. USD 84-89 billion (PLN 320-340 billion) is expected for electricity generation alone, with 80% of that allocated to emission-free sources (RES and nuclear power).

Should US companies offer battery energy storage systems in Poland?

U.S. Commercial Service recommends that U.S. companies offering battery energy storage systems take a hard look at the Polish market because there will be opportunities for U.S. companies to propose their solutions for many years to come. How much storage capacity does Poland have in 2024?

The Polish Economic Institute reported that in the power market's main auction, which was held in December 2024, storage capacity of around 2.5 GW was contracted, indicating that this was a 44 percent increase over 2023, in which the total contracted for batteries was 1.7 GW.
