How profitable is Bess in southern Sweden?

August 6th serves as a compelling example of BESS profitability in southern Sweden. Power prices fluctuated significantly throughout the day, offering multiple trading opportunities across different markets: Energy arbitrage in intraday and day-ahead markets: A 1MW battery could earn €250 in just four hours of trading.

Which Bess projects are in the pipeline in Sweden?

Most BESS projects in the pipeline in Sweden are 1-hour systems, with the business case still very much centred around ancillary service markets. One of the first European-owned gigafactories for battery cell production, Northvolt's Ett was built in Sweden, and the company is collaborating with Volvo to build the country's second site.

The two companies initiated the project in 2022. Construction works are expected to start in 2026, while the commissioning is planned for 2027.

Why should you invest in Bess batteries in Sweden?

BESS investments in Sweden thrive when operators adopt a comprehensive approach to leveraging market opportunities. Batteries excel in their versatility, offering operators the ability to trade across multiple markets, including intraday, day-ahead, FCR-D, FCR-N, FFR, aFFR and mFRR.

Is Bess still a good investment?

However, the data clearly demonstrates that BESS remain a sound and resilient investment. By leveraging trading strategies across multiple markets, known as value stacking, BESS continue to deliver strong returns on investment (ROI) for both investors and operators. If playback doesn't begin shortly, try restarting your device.
