In Finland roughly 45 billion euros are yearly spent by the government, municipalities and congregations on the procurement of goods, services and public works. Finnish public procurement is subject to national procurement legislation which derives from the European Community directives on public.

The Ministry of Finance guides and directs procurement in central government, for instance through the Government Procurement Strategy, by deciding on centralised joint purchases, developing procurement procedures and maintaining responsibility for the general terms and conditions of procurement.

Finland's government procurement market is a major player, accounting for roughly 15% of the country's GDP and €35 billion annually. Over 100,000 contracts are awarded each year, with SMEs winning around 40%. Focus lies on goods and services, while construction takes a smaller slice. Transparency.
