Overview

From the 1 st of October 2025 to the 31 st of December 2026, the government proposes a fixed price of 40 øre per kilowatt-hour (excluding VAT). For electricity, grid fees, taxes, and supplier markups will be added. For district heating, additional costs will also apply. What is the future of energy storage in Norway?

Norway's poor lighting conditions, residential PV and energy storage development are limited, the future market may mainly focus on the outlying island microgrid. Spain will install 242 MW of energy storage in 2023 and is expected to increase to 5.8 GW by 2030.

Does Norway offer electricity support?

The Norwegian government launched a temporary electricity support package for households from December 2021. From the 4th quarter of 2021 and onwards, data on average electricity support is included in the electricity price statistics.

Does Norway have a tax on electricity?

All counties in Norway have the same tax rate for the consumption of electricity, apart from some parts of Troms and the whole of Finnmark, which are exempt. The Enova tax was 1 øre/kWh in 2021 and is the same for all households throughout the country. VAT is added after electricity price, grid rent and other taxes have been added.

Why is government spending increasing in Norway?

Federal spending has grown as a share of the economy in response to war and other crises. Norwegian lawmakers on Monday passed a law introducing subsidised fixed price power contracts for households, the country's second scheme to help alleviate consumer concerns over volatile and high power prices.

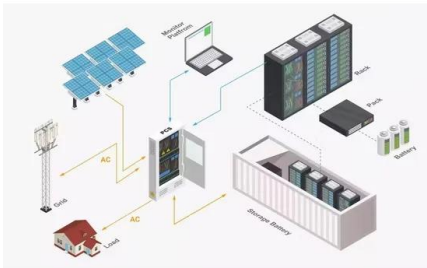

Will Sweden introduce a new capacity market mechanism in 2028-2029?

The Swedish government plans to introduce a new capacity market mechanism in 2028-2029 to support the further development of the energy storage market. The Swiss energy storage market is expected to grow from 318 MW in 2023 to 1.3 GW in 2030.

How many residential energy storage systems are there in Germany?

By September 2023, Germany has installed more than 1 million residential energy storage systems and expects to add more than 400,000 units per year in the future. Volatile energy prices and the popularity of photovoltaic self-use have driven demand for residential energy storage, which is expected to continue to grow through 2030.
