

Solar storage inverter project financing options in China 2025

Overview

Will China's energy investment slow in 2025?

China also achieved its 2030 wind and solar capacity target in 2024, six years ahead of schedule. While renewable installations are set to continue, investment growth is expected to slow in 2025 and, in the case of solar PV, even to fall back slightly. China's evolving macroeconomic priorities have long shaped its approach to energy investment.

Do banks approve term loans for solar projects using Sungrow inverters?

This prestigious rating indicates that banks are more likely to approve term loans for solar projects using Sungrow inverters, ensuring long-term financial stability and benefits for stakeholders. As the global solar market continues to expand, securing project financing remains one of the key challenges.

Is Sungrow a good inverter supplier?

Hefei, China, March 10th, 2025 /PRNewswire/ BloombergNEF (BNEF) has published the results of its 2024 PV Module and Inverter Bankability Survey, naming Sungrow the only inverter supplier to receive a global No.1 rating.

Where are Sungrow PV inverters exported?

Sungrow's PV inverters have achieved a remarkable feat by being exported to over 180 countries and regions worldwide. As a testament to its global standing, Sungrow has been ranked as the global No.1 in PV inverter shipments for years, according to S&P Global Commodity Insights.

What are the major investment trends in 2025?

These priorities have materialised in two major investment trends. First is the significant push for grid, storage, and smart infrastructure, as seen from USD 88 billion in transmission and distribution investment in 2025.

How is Chinese energy investment transforming?

Chinese energy investment has traditionally been dominated by state-owned enterprises and characterised by large-scale infrastructure projects backed by government financing. However, the landscape is beginning to shift. In recent years the government has increasingly encouraged greater private sector participation in energy development.
