Are batteries a sustainable solution to future-proof the Netherlands' electricity system?

Batteries, both BTM and grid-scale FTM (front-of-the-meter), play an important role in mitigating such challenges and offer a sustainable solution to future-proof the Netherlands' electricity system. But how can it integrate more batteries if the grid struggles to handle the current load?

How much Bess will be online in the Netherlands by 2030?

Without subsidies, transmission system operator TenneT expects about 2GW of BESS to be online in the Netherlands by 2030, much lower than the 9GW it forecasts it needs. See Jetten's letter announcing the accelerated deployment of the funds (in Dutch) here. This isn't just another summit – it's our biggest and most exhilarating Summit yet!.

Why does Germany need a solar-plus-storage subsidy?

That compares to the effective 100% requirement that solar-plus-storage projects used to need in order to qualify for an investment tax credit (ITC) in the US, and still do for Germany's Innovation Tender. The subsidy is needed because BESS co-located with PV are 'not profitable', the government said.

Will Bess be available in the Netherlands in 2024?

Building a business case for BESS in the Netherlands has been a major challenge for the industry, as detailed in interviews with developer-operator SemperPower (Premium access) and developer Lion Storage, with SemperPower saying that virtually no new grid-scale BESS would come online in 2024.

Why are solar roofs gaining traction in 2023?

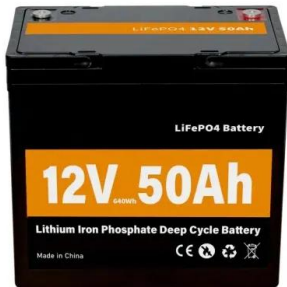

Due to a high electricity demand for home-charged EVs (electric vehicles), air conditioning, and heat pumps, PV (photovoltaic) roof installations continue to gain traction – 2.55 GW of residential solar capacity was added in 2023 alone.

How much does a kWh subsidy cost?

The initial estimate for the subsidy is €0.14-29 per kWh of energy discharged. Independent research and consultancy organisation CE Delft has been heavily involved in the analysis of the scheme until now.
