The Brazilian Minister of Energy and Mining has unveiled an auction for battery energy storage projects to be held in 2025. A public consultation regarding the auction should be launched in the coming days, as details regarding the capacity sought and the total amount allocated for the auction have.

Brazil is set to conduct its first auction for adding batteries and storage systems to the national power grid, as reported by Reuters. The auction, to take place in June 2025, will include 300MW energy capacity purchase that could drive an estimated $450m in investments from winning bidders.

Brazil's Ministry of Mines and Energy plans to hold its first auction for electricity storage batteries in the second half of this year. According to Thiago Barral, the ministry's national secretary for energy transition and planning, the process is in its final stages of preparation. The auction.

Changes to Brazil's first capacity reserve auction of 2025 could undermine the expansion of the procurement regime to include battery energy storage systems (BESS) in the second exercise of the year, according to Markus Vlasits, chairman of Brazil's energy storage trade body. In early January 2025.
