Overview

How many EVS will Brazil sell in 2025?

EV sales in RoW countries are forecasted to increase from just under 58,000 in 2020 to nearly 170,000 by 2025. Were Brazil EV sales to follow a similar path, they would grow to 17,200 in 2025, from 5,900 units sold in 2020.

Why did Brazilian energy suppliers raise a red flag in September 2024?

From ESS News Brazilian energy suppliers raised the red flag in September 2024, signaling a rise in electricity costs as thermal power stations were fired up to cover a fall in hydroelectric output because of water shortages.

How will electrification affect Brazil's biofuel industry?

Electrification will eventually displace a large share of biofuels from Brazil's light passenger fleet and its large biofuel resource may need to be redirected to other areas of transport or the economy, where it may offer a decarbonization solution for hard-to-abate sectors.

How will EV emissions affect Brazil?

As the share of zero-carbon generation increases from 85% today to 96% in 2040, Brazil's grid emissions intensity is set to decrease from 81g of CO₂ per kilowatt-hour to 24gCO₂/kWh across the same time period. Annual emissions from EV use will decrease as renewable energy generation rises.

How will natural gas affect Brazil's emissions?

As the role of natural gas in Brazil's grid shifts from baseload to providing back-up and meeting peak demand, its emissions retreat to one fifth of current levels by 2030, before steadily rising again to nearly half current levels.

What is the future demand for air conditioning in Brazil?

Long-term growth in demand should average over 1% annually, lifting 2019 demand of 534 terawatt-hours (TWh) by more than 30% by 2050, to around 700TWh. Air conditioning (AC) is a key driver. Demand associated with AC in Brazil is expected to expand 4% annually to 2050.
